Connect with others in the Industry . . . Learn from your peers . . . Share your expertise . . .

Roundtables provide the opportunity for people to share their expertise in a given area. They can bring together all parties . . . Owners, contractors, construction managers, subcontractors, design professionals, labor leaders. They are intended to be interactive, allowing and encouraging all attendees to participate in the discussion and analysis of the issue.

Each Roundtable will address a different topic. Roundtable facilitators will introduce the scope with a brief introduction offering views and experiences. Then each will seek your experiences and opinions in open discussion.
