Take a Walk Through History or How About A 75-foot High Disposal Cell?

Weldon Spring Site Interpretive Center Project Tour

Ready to mix science, history, engineering, and a stunning view? Join us for an exclusive behind-the-scenes tour of the Weldon Spring Site Interpretive Center—where mid-century munitions, Cold War cleanup, and prairie restoration all collide in one unforgettable facility. Once the home of explosives and uranium processing, this 150-acre campus has undergone a complete transformation. Now? It's a nationally-recognized U.S. Department of Energy legacy site, a high-tech educational hub, and a showcase of environmental stewardship.

What You'll See on the Tour:

- 22,000 sq. ft. Interpretive Center designed by KdG (now part of Shive-Hattery)—includes:
- A 5,000 sq. ft. exhibit hall loaded with Cold War and WWII-era artifacts
- Four classrooms and outdoor teaching areas for future scientists and history buffs
- A 100-seat auditorium for lectures, tours, and story-swapping
- Admin/support offices, labs, locker rooms—even a maintenance garage with a two-bay shop

You'll get the full story of how this site was decontaminated, redesigned, and rebuilt for education, exploration, and environmental pride.

Event Agenda

- ⊕ 7:30 am Check-in / Networking / Continental Breakfast
- ⊕ 8 am Welcome & Facility Tour
- ⊕ 8:45 am Project Team Panel Presentation

The design team and the USACE will be your panel for the presentation! *This program qualifies for continuing education credits.
